stateboards.ie operates under the auspices of the Public Appointments Service and is committed to a policy of equal opportunity.

The Public Appointments Service (PAS), established under statute in 2004, provides an independent shared service in recruitment, assessment and selection to organisations across the Civil and Public Services. On 30 September 2014, the Government decided that the PAS should also be given responsibility for putting in place an open, accessible, rigorous and transparent system to support Ministers in making appointments to State Boards. Our dedicated website, www.stateboards.ie, is the channel through which the PAS advertises vacancies on State Boards. It is also the means through which accomplished, experienced and qualified people, including people who might not previously have been identified as available for appointment, can then apply to be considered for particular vacancies.
Membership of State Boards

High standards of corporate governance in all State Agencies, whether in the commercial or non-commercial sphere, are critical to ensuring a positive contribution to the State’s overall social and economic development.

Members of State Boards are appointed to act on behalf of the citizen to oversee the running of the affairs of state bodies. State bodies must serve the interests of the taxpayer, pursue value for money in their endeavours (including managing risk appropriately), and act transparently as public entities. Members of State Boards, and the relevant management team, are accountable for the proper management of the organisation.

Board members should act on a fully informed basis, in good faith, with due diligence and care, and in the best interest of the State body, subject to the objectives set by Government. In that regard and in accordance with 13.2 of the Guidelines on Appointments to State Boards, “it is advisable that no member of a State Board should serve more than two full terms of appointment or should hold appointments to more than two State Boards.”

The Code of Practice for the Governance of State Bodies 2016 (the Code) provides a framework for the application of best practice in corporate governance by both commercial and non-commercial State bodies.

In order to be an effective contributor on a State Board it is recommended that members should:

- bring independent and objective scrutiny to the oversight of the organisation;
- be prepared to be challenging when necessary while being supportive to the delivery of organisational strategy and objectives;
- be equipped to offer considered advice on the basis of sound judgement and experience;
- be prepared to make a time commitment to their work commensurate with their role.

1. Background

The Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland (PSI), is an independent statutory body established under the Pharmacy Act 2007 (the Act), and is the pharmacy regulator in Ireland. The principal function of the PSI is to regulate the profession and practice of pharmacy having regard to the need to protect, maintain and promote the health, safety and wellbeing of the public.

The PSI’s purpose is to ensure that pharmacy services are delivered in a competent, professional and ethical manner and in an appropriate environment, to the highest standards of quality care and best practice in the interests of the wellbeing of patients and the public.

The PSI has responsibility for regulating the professional practice of circa 5,600 pharmacists, 380 pharmaceutical assistants and 1,900 pharmacies.

The Act sets out the principal functions and duties of the PSI. Members appointed to the PSI Council act in the public interest to ensure that the statutory functions of the PSI are effectively performed. The principal areas of responsibility of the PSI include:

- Statutory registration of pharmacists, pharmaceutical assistants and pharmacies;
- Accreditation of educational programmes for the pharmacy profession at different levels, and standards for continued professional development and training;
- Quality assurance of standards, and the development of pharmacy practice;
- Inspection of pharmacies and enforcement of medicines and pharmacy legislation, including the taking of prosecutions;
- Receiving complaints about pharmacists and pharmacies, operating the statutory fitness-to-practise processes and imposing sanctions on pharmacists.
The PSI is governed by a 21-member Council established under Section 10 of the Pharmacy Act 2007 with a non-pharmacist majority. Members are appointed by the Minister for Health. The Act specifies membership of the Council to include: pharmacists selected by registered pharmacists; a nominee of the Health Products Regulatory Authority and the Health Service Executive; a nominee of the Schools of Pharmacy; and public interest nominees of the Minister for Health via the State Boards process. Collectively, members of the Council should provide the relevant expertise, knowledge and experience necessary for the Council to fulfil all of its statutory duties and governance responsibilities. The Council is accountable to the Minister for Health and to the Oireachtas.

2. Functions of the Council

The Council has two main functions. Firstly, the Council is responsible for providing leadership and strategic direction in the delivery of the PSI’s statutory functions and to oversee the overall performance of the organisation and compliance with the Act and with all statutory and legal obligations. This work is carried out in public.

Secondly, the Council performs a quasi-judicial role as the decision-maker in the statutory disciplinary process. In accordance with Part 6 of the Act, Council has a significant role in the statutory complaints and disciplinary process (fitness to practise) operated by the PSI. The Council’s role is prescribed by the Act, and involves taking decisions regarding further action in respect of certain complaints and in the imposition of sanctions where a pharmacist or pharmacy owner has been found to have committed professional misconduct or poor professional performance. This work is carried out in private.

3. Vacancy Details & Legislative Requirements

The Pharmacy Act 2007 is the establishing legislation of the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland and its Council. The PSI (Council) Rules 2008 (S.I. 492 of 2008) and PSI (Council) (Amendment) Rules 2015 (S.I. 114 of 2015) make specific provisions in relation to the Council, including how it conducts meetings and delegates its functions. The PSI’s Corporate Governance Framework and the Code of Conduct for Council members’ sets out details of PSI responsibilities, procedures and Council accountabilities. The PSI’s Corporate Strategy and Annual Service Plan set out the Council’s key objectives on a yearly basis.

There are five vacancies to be filled by the Minister for Health under Sections 10(3) (d) and (e) of the Act, following the end of terms of office of current Council members from 17 June 2017 to 12 March 2018.

The Council is required under the Act to meet at least four times annually, and in practice Council meets at least six times per annum, each meeting for the duration of the working day. Council meetings are held in public, save for consideration of certain confidential matters and all deliberations relating to the Council’s role in the PSI’s statutory disciplinary functions (fitness to practise) which are considered in private session. Council delegates some of its functions to the Registrar and to its Advisory Committees, and it is envisaged that Council members also participate as a member of one to two Committees.
Council members are expected to be in attendance for the entire Council meeting. Documentation for Council meetings is provided in advance, and members may expect to spend one day in preparation for each meeting. Council members are required to devote as much time to duties on the Council as is necessary for the proper and efficient discharge of those duties, and to comply with the relevant provisions of the Code of Practice for the Governance of State Bodies 2016, http://www.per.gov.ie/en/revised-code-of-practice-for-the-governance-of-state-bodies/

Council members are also expected to participate in Council training sessions and attend induction training for new members. The Council is supported in its work by the Executive of the PSI, acting under the leadership of the Registrar/Chief Officer.
